I have a list of things to consider when placing someone on an internal project. Please give me 5 options to rephrase this introduction line to that list

Here's some inputs the Bench Master would consider for each developer:

1. Here are some factors the Bench Master would assess for every developer:
2. These are the key elements the Bench Master would take into account for each developer:
3. Here are some considerations the Bench Master would keep in mind for every developer:
4. The following are important considerations the Bench Master would weigh for each developer:
5. These are the aspects the Bench Master would scrutinize for every developer:
